

Using Dog Food Coupons to Cut Pet Care Costs

Nobody is there for you the way your dog is. He is excited every time he sees you. He would lay down his life for yours. He will always be your best friend. And of course you want to take care of him the way he takes care of you, and buy him the highest quality dog food you can find. But unless you have 1000 dog food coupons for free bags of food on hand, feeding your pup the best can really take a bite out of your wallet.

And the bigger your dog is, the more you will spend. If you buy two 30 pound bags of dog food every two months, you will spend over $400 a year on dry food if you do not use dog food coupons. Do you like to feed your dog the tasty canned stuff, too? That is another $400 to $1000 a year for one to three cases of 13 oz. cans a month. Yes, your pup is your best buddy, but... that is a lot of hundreds to spend feeding him.

There is good news for your wallet: there are ways to still buy the best food for your pup while saving some cash. And the best one is using dog food coupons. Available both through those newspaper coupon inserts and on the internet, dog food coupons are an option all dog owners should consider. Because even if you think that a couple of dollars here and there does not make much difference in your pet food expense, those few dollars add up to plenty. Especially if you use online dog food coupons.

Online Dog Food Coupons

Buying dog food is no fun... it is heavy, hard to transport, and costs an arm and a leg. Which is why purchasing it on the internet is so popular. With this method, all you have to do is go to a pet food site, choose what you want, and wait for delivery. Online shopping is an easy way to make buying dog food more convenient. And when you use online dog food coupons, it is a terrific way to save extra money, too.

While many online dog food coupons can be printed to use at your regular pet food store, some of them are for exclusive use online. Both varieties of dog food coupons can save you anything from a few dollars per bag, to free shipping on large orders, to 10, 25, and up to 40% off. And most of the dog food coupons you will find online are good for the highest end pet food retailers, like Petco and PetFoodDirect.

But... how much money can you really save with dog food coupons? Is it really worth the effort to print them out or to order online? Yes! You can save hundreds of dollars a year on your dogs food with dog food coupons. And the bigger the dog, the bigger the savings you will see when you use dog food coupons.
